Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. to Sponsor Church Services, December 15th

MR. JOHN B. KENNA OF CINCINNATI WILL DELIVER SPECIAL CHRISTMAS ADDRESS

In an effort to stimulate interest in religious affairs the college christian organizations, the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. are sponsoring a morning service at the Hanover Presbyterian Church, Sunday, Dec. 15. The service has the full cooperation of the church officials but will be entirely in the hands of the student members of the association. Daniel Lewis and Ruth Mathews are the two students who are in the active charge of the services. It has been felt by the christian organizations for a long time that the students of the college have not been sufficiently interested in the services at the church and they are making this effort in order to attract a larger percentage of the student body to the regular Sunday services.

Mr. John B. Kenna of the Cincinnati branch of the Northwestern Life Insurance Company of Minneapolis will be the speaker of the morning. Mr. Kenna was born and passed the major part of his childhood in the Holy Land. Having so much first hand material concerning the historical and religious sites of Palestine he will be extraordinarily fitted to deliver an appropriate sermon for the Christmas season. Mr. Kenna is sacrificing a lot of valuable time to be with us at this time and it is up to the student body to show their appreciation by attending the services.

The Chapel Choir, as customary will take part in the musical program for the services. Mr. Poland, violinist, and Miss Whitcomb, soloist, will render a special musical program for the occasion.

PHI GAM DANCE PROVES BIG SUCCESS

FIJIS HOLD LIVELY AFFAIR AT THEIR FIRST SEMESTER FORMAL IN NEW MADISON ARMORY

On Saturday night, November 23rd, the armory in Madison was charmingly decorated in honor of the dance given by Phi Gamma Delta in designs of multicolored crepe paper. The most noticeable feature of the decorative scheme was the center light with its hangings of white and purple and the stars of Phi Gamma Delta. The other lights and the great scallops that covered the walls were of blue, red and white. For the second time this season the Prep Sargent orchestra of Indianapolis delighted a Hanoverian audience. The favors, brass daggers with dragon hilts, were highly prized by their recipients.

Chaperones were Professor and Mrs. Diehl, Dr. and Mrs. James, Dr. and Mrs. Kutz, and Prof. Max Poland.

Dr. Parker Formally Inaugurated as President In Brilliant Ceremony

DISTINGUISHED GROUP OF REPRESENTATIVES OF MANY COLLEGES AND PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH NUMBERED AMONG PARTICIPANTS.

Hon. Oscar H. Montgomery, Pres. Board of Trustees, Swears Dr. Parker In.

On November 2nd a very important and extremely worthy chapter was written in the history of Hanover College. The day ushered in a new era for the institution. There took place in the Hanover Presbyterian Church the inauguration of Dr. Albert George Parker, Jr.

A fitting place for a ceremony of that kind, the little red church stands solemn, sacred and awe-inspiring in spite of its size. Perhaps its simplicity yet rugged strength brought more forcefully to the audience the importance and the solemnity of the administering of the oath to our new president. At ten o'clock the Academic Procession formed at the parsonage and proceeded to the church. It consisted of the Chapel Choir, the Participants in the Services, the Trustees, the Faculty, and all official representatives of the other institutions. Following the entrance of the Procession the services were opened with the Doxology. President-Emeritus William A. Mills gave the invocation and the scripture selection was read by the Reverend Harry L. Crain. The Chapel Choir rendered that famous work of Mozart's "Gloria"; after which the Reverend Cleland B. McAfee made an address on the "Personal Elements in Education." The next part of the program was made up of charges to the Church of Indiana, the Board of Trustees, the Alumni, the Faculty, the Students and to the President. These were given by President John Timothy Stone, Pres. Charles J. Turck, Pres. Charles F. Wisheart, Pres. Robert Maynard Hutchins, Pres. William Lowe Bry-ant, and Rev. Williams Chalmers Covert.

Then the vital part of the whole ceremony; the Formal Declaration of Inauguration was made by the Hon. Oscar H. Montgomery, president of the Board of Trustees. At the conclusion of a prayer by the Rev. George W. Allison, a degree of Doctor of Laws was granted to Dr. Cleland B. McAfee. President Parker then gave his address, "Preparing the Way," after which the Benediction was spoken by the Rev. Edward P. Whallon.

It was truly a memorable day. Seldom does one find such a gathering of men and women of education, culture, and fame. We, the student body, congratulate Dr. Parker upon his inauguration as president of Hanover College. We wish him success and feel assured that he will meet it since he is already fixed in our minds as a man of character. We are determined to cooperate in every possible way and are happy that he is officially "Prexy." In that famous old southern fashion, we stretch forth the hand of good fellowship and say, "Howdy, welcome, stranger, you belong to us!"

PHI DELTS LEAD IN RACE FOR I-M TROPHY

FINAL COMPUTATION WHICH INCLUDES FOOTBALL AND ALL I-M RATINGS UP TO DATE GIVES PHI DELTS 3,000 LEAD

With the intramural season getting into full swing under Manager Anderson and Assistant Manager Tallman and varsity football percentages figured up, the Phi Delt are leading the contestants for the Intramural trophy by approximately 3,000 points. The Phi Delt contingent have a grand total of 6,740 points with the Theta Nus second with 3910 The Phi Bams follow with 2530, the Betas with 1910, Unorganized with 680, and the Alpha Delta Alphas with 70.

The method of computation is separated in two parts. The first consisting of points for men on varsity squads and the second for participation in the Intramural activities. In the first part an organization receives a stated number of points for each man on the varsity squad, a bonus if he wins his numeral, and still a higher bonus if he wins his varsity letter in that sport. In the Intramural department, an organization is credited with a certain number of points for entering a team in any league and an additional bonus for each game won and another bonus if they win the tourney.

Intramural basketball is next on the schedule starting Saturday morning at eight thirty. All men on the campus are eligible for the team of the organization in which they are a member if they are not at present a member of the varsity squad in that particular sport. If a man is cut from the team he remains eligible for the I-M team in that sport.

Following is the schedule for the official Intramural basketball tourney:

Saturday, Dec. 7.
Betas vs. Phi Delt at 8:30.
Alpha Delt vs. Theta Nus, 9:30
Phi Gams vs. Unorganized, 10:30
Saturday, Dec. 14.
Betas vs. Alpha Delt 8:30.
Phi Delt vs. Phi Gams, 9:30.
Theta Nus vs. Unorganized 10:30
Saturday, Jan. 11.
Betas vs. Theta Nus, 8:30.
Phi Delt vs. Unorganized 9:30.
Alpha Delt vs. Phi Gams 10:30.
Saturday, Jan. 18.
Betas vs. Unorganized, 8:30.
Phi Delt vs. Alpha Delt, 9:30.
Phi Gams vs. Theta Nus, 10:30.
Saturday, Jan. 25.
Betas vs. Phi Gams, 8:30.
Alpha Delt vs. Unorganized 9:30
Phi Delt vs. Theta Nus, 10:30.

LATE NEWS REPORT!

With the final cut of the season made the 1929 Panther net squad is composed of the following men:

Pehmer, Butt, Cooperider, Crosby, Fuller, Garriott, Green, Grinstead, Higgs, Lemen, D. Lewis, McCandless, McNulty, Naab, Nicely, Rockwell, Telle, Wallin.

The first game of the season is scheduled for Friday night Dec. 13 which leaves five days of practice before the tilt with the Indiana Law College of Indianapolis.

FIVE NOMINATED FOR MISS HANOVER

Following out the original idea of the student council the nominations for the post of Miss Hanover at the Madison Bridge Dedication Service were held in chapel Tuesday. According to the rules enacted by the council the five girls with the highest number of votes will become nominees for the final voting which will take place this morning in chapel. The committee in charge of the voting were Miss Campbell, chairman, Richard Conley, Dorothy Stephan, and Prof. Fitzgibbon, faculty representative.

The five nominations were:

Miss Frances Allison.
Miss Helen Campbell.
Miss Stella Firth.
Miss Elizabeth Rea.
Miss Naomi Whitcomb.

The committee in charge of the float consists of George Taggart, chairman, Ruth Mathews, Leland McCandless, Lyman Thayer, and Mary Laura MacGregor. According to the proposed motion the merchants of Hanover will be expected to contribute financially and the remaining deficiency to be made up by a fifteen cents tax on each student.

IOTA PHIS HOLD SUCCESSFUL THANKSGIVING DANCE

The Iota Phi Dance, given Friday November 22 in the Beta and Iota Phi halls, was carried out in the true Thanksgiving spirit. The rooms were decorated in fopper shocks and pumpkins and the windows were draped with orange. Lou Perry and his Footwarmers, the old standbys of Hanover students, furnished the music. Attached to the programs were yo-yos the favors of the evening. Refreshing punch was served to the guests.

Chaperones were Mrs. Frank Adams and Dr. and Mrs. Kutz.

The first all-university ping-pong contest was recently held at the University of Texas.

DR. MILLIS GIVES TWO SETS TO LIBRARY

The Hanover College library has recently added to its education shelves two valuable works, the gift of Dr. William A. Millis, President Emeritus of the college.

The "Cyclopedia of Education," in five volumes, edited by Paul Monroe is described by an authority on reference books as "the best encyclopedia of education in English, with signed articles, good bibliographies and excellent illustrations." The scope of the work is general, including education in all countries and all periods, but American subjects receive somewhat fuller treatment than foreign topics.

Dr. Monroe, who is an outstanding figure in the educational world today, was born in North Madison and studied at Hanover College.

Dr. Millis also presented to the library thirty-two volumes of the "Addresses and Proceedings of the National Education Association." We now have almost a complete set of this official publication of the great educational organization of the country from 1893 to date. These volumes are indexed in the "Readers' Guide to Periodical Literature," so that their varied contents may be used easily.

YALE STUDENTS WORKING WAY THROUGH COLLEGE

NEW HAVEN, Conn. A total of $687,647 was earned last year by Yale students from positions recorded through the University Bureau of Appointments, according to the annual report issued today by Albert B. Crawford, Director of the Department of Personnel Study and the Bureau of Appointments. Students working their way at present make up more than one third of the university's total enrollment.

Ball State Teachers College is discussing the advantages of forming a Student Council. The first step toward the forming of a student-faculty representation group was taken recently when the presidents and vice-presidents of the college classes met with the deans of the college and President Pittenger to discuss the functions of such a group. Student Government is an experiment on many college campuses.

Funds contributed anonymously will enable Dartmouth College to build a covered hockey rink in time for the winter season. Several attempts to raise necessary money for the rink have been made.

VARSIITY "H" SWEATER AWARDS

SENIORS TO RECEIVE A NEW TYPE OF SWEATER TO DISTINGUISH THEM FROM OTHER VARSITY MEN

Following the time-honored tradition of all colleges and universities thirteen members of the 1929 Panther gridiron squad will receive the coveted varsity "H" in return for their meritorious services on the gridiron the past season. In addition five more will receive the minor award and Burteen their class numerals.

According to the new system adopted by the athletic department the senior varsity sweaters will be distinguished from the rest with several new features. The senior members of the team who number seven including manager Bear, will receive a white sweater with a blue "H" and cardinal stripes on their sleeves denoting the number of letters won. A new custom that has been adopted by the athletic department is the awarding of a minor letter. As the rule stands now a man must play in twelve quarters to be eligible for the regular varsity award. Many men have been noticed in the past who although they have not carried out the strict regulation of this rule have played several quarters and proven and earned and willing help to the team. As a result an "H" on a coat sweater, or some other distinguishing feature will be on these sweaters. The class numerals which are awarded annually consist of a red numeral on a green sweater for the freshmen and a red numeral on a dark blue coat sweater for the upperclassmen.

The thirteen that are to receive the varsity sweaters are all regulars and stars of this year's team who have played their twelve quardeal of commendation that we note and announce to our readers that "Oss" Naab, end, and three year letterman is the only member of the Panther squad that has played every second of this season's schedule. Following is the list of men who are to receive in the near future the senior sweaters: Abbott, Beck, Carl, Dill, Easton, Gerritt, Telle, and Bear, manager in addition. Anderson, Pehmer, Higgs, Naab, Rockwell, Taggart, and Wallin will receive the customary varsity award.

Guyon, C. Lewis, Monaghan, Tallman and Thayer will receive the minor varsity award for their services during the past season.

The normal men consist of Boicourt, Butt, Dorell, Fuller, Green, Grinstead, Kaiser, Kunkler, McCandless, McGuffey, Palmer, and Fish and Whitsett, managers.

Although our 1930 football schedule has not been officially announced or completed all reports indicate that it will consist of contests against several new and some of our oldest and hardest opponents. With six men gone from this year's team prospects necessarily do not look as bright but with so excellent a string of substitutes and men from this year's Rony eleven, Hanover will probably be represented with a strong outfit when next year's opening whistle blows. Coach Money is considering the advisability of early spring practice and if a sufficient number of men report who are really capable of fine efforts on the gridiron the Panthers as always will prove a tough opponent for our old rivals.

Whispering In Chapel

Chapel service is a break in the routine of study for the purpose of rest and instruction. It is not strictly a religious service, but is many times used to instill in the students cooperation, unity, and those other qualities that make for manhood and womanhood.

If we do not have an end toward which we are working, there is no better time than the present to sum up our ability and set our minds to the task and labor to finish the journey which God has made for us. Chapel will help you feel your way.

As I mentioned, chapel is for the purpose of instilling in the student christian ideals, cooperation and unity in action and thought. Chapel is for the common good. Is whispering while in attendance at chapel showing a spirit of cooperation? I leave the question for you to answer. Think before you answer.

When you cause an undue amount of disturbance in chapel, does that spirit of unity and manliness gurge in your veins? Think it over students and think twice before you act.

Aviation As Your Future Occupation

How to make the best use of the intelligent and enthusiastic man power that is pouring from the colleges of the country has proved to be one of the real problems of the aviation industry. Hundreds of students, looking forward to graduation and their emergence into the world of commerce, have caught the fever of this fresh and swiftly growing business of flying, and have made up their minds to join their fortunes with it. On the other hand, aviation has a tremendous need for eager, trained and youthful minds to take up its multitude of tasks.

Among the aviation executives who have given most thought to this problem is Guy W. Vaughan, vice president and general manager of the Wright Aeronautical Corporation. A very large number of young college men have come to Vaughan for jobs or advice, and college presidents have frequently inquired of him what to do with their young charges eager to get into aviation. To these he has outlined a general primer of the industry as it applies to the college in search of a job.

"It is, first of all," says Vaughan, "something of a mistake to regard aviation as one industry, a coherent whole. The industry is in fact a group of many industries which are worlds apart in all except their ultimate aim: to make and sell airplanes, to operate them, and to keep them in the air."

"Suppose we simply list these various sub-industries, to make clear how very different they are: in the aviation business we (1) design, and manufacture, and sell engines; (2) design, and manufacture, and sell airplanes; (3) operate airplanes at a fixed base for training or for local taxi service; (4) operate airplanes over scheduled routes carrying mail and passengers; (5) operate commercial airports; (6) fly manufacture and sell carburetors or piston floats or spruce lumber or linen fabric or any of the hundreds of aeronautical accessories; (8) teach students to fly, in large scale operations.

"There are, of course, more subdivisions of the industry. But these will serve to demonstrate my first point; that he sudden should make up his mind as quickly as possible which phase interests him, and train himself especially for that phase. He should not allow himself simply to drift into the aviation business. For in that case we may find a graduate mechanical engineer operating a mail route when he should be designing engines, or a first class sales department executive inspecting lumber out of a spruce forest.

"There is hardly any division of the aviation industry, from metallurgy to test piloting, which cannot be trained for to some extent in a college. There is hardly any division of the aviation industry which is not badly in need of college trained men, intelligent enough and ambitious enough to expand that training by working experience.

"Of course, any men fresh from school needs a great deal of practical experience, and hard working experience, before he is ready to slip into a big job. There are very few short cuts in aviation.

"There are for example men who come to the Wright Company with excellent specialized educations, from the best colleges in the country. Our practice with them is almost identical in every case. Whether a newcomer is a graduate of engineering, or business administration, or accounting, we usually put him in a pair of overalls in the service shop and let him spend three or four months grinding valves. That is a tedious and uninteresting job. It is a greasy job, with long hours and monotonous labor. But we serve two purposes with this late really has the backbone essential to this business, and we teach him what the inside of an engine looks like. A college man that can grind valves eight hours every day for three months with plenty of overtime has plenty of grit.

"The most frequent question asked of me by college men is this, 'Must I learn to fly?' Being a pilot is not essential to a place in the aviation industry, but it is highly desirable. I would like for every man in my organization to be able to handle a ship in the air. This applies particularly to all men having anything to do with airplane or engine sales. It would be foolish for a motor truck salesman to drive up to his prospects door behind a fine pair of bay horses. It is almost equally foolish for an airplane salesman to point out the virtues of his product from the ground.

"I would advise nearly all men entering the aviation business to get familiar with the stick of an airplane. A few hours of flying teaches things that precepts can never teach.

"Summing up my advice to college men interested in this business I say this: Decide, as quickly as possible, what phase of the industry is interesting to you. Learn everything about that phase which can be learned from books or from men experienced in it. And, finally, do not scorn a start in some very lowly job. For that, after all, is the best and surest way to learn, and to avoid those later mistakes which come to every man, no matter how intelligent he may be, who has not actual working experience to back him up."

1929 ALL AMERICAN FOOT BALL TEAM

First Team.

Tube of Colgate, L. E.
Black of Smith, L. T.
Lock of Yale, L. G.
Mince of West, G.
Jug of Brown, R. G.
Lake of Michigan, R. T.
Prince of Wales, R. E.
George of Washington, Q.
Breath of Freshness, I. H.

Second Team.

Fountain of Pen, L. E.
Palm of Beach, L. T.
Dumb of Job, L. G.
Duke of York, G.

National of Parker, R. I.
Raw of Oyster, R. T.

Last of Will, Q.
Santa of Claus, L. H.
Joe of Campy, R. G.
Ebb of Tide, P. B.

(Special to the Triangle): Hanover, Ind. It is sometimes very difficult to select and do justice to all when picking this Annual All-American Football Team. However through various scouts and intensive surveys, it is with a feeling of fairness the above two teams were selected.

The ends, Oh! and what ends. Tube of Colgate, Prince of Wales, Fountain of Pen and Penn of State, are four of the best wingmen to grace the gridiron in many a day. The first two named are placed on the first team because of their superior play in the major as well as minor games on their respective schedules. This boy Tube gave many an opponent a close shave and with Prince, the hard falling blue-blood, operating at right end no mentor could ask for more. This season's crop of tackles were of the large, powerful, smashing type. Black of Smith and Lake of Michigan wrecked tackle play after tackle play. This Smith is a powerful boy and Lake covers a lot of territory. Palm and Raw are a shade behind the first team tackles, but as they are both Juniors with one more season in which to develop, should make the first team later. The Centers represent two distinct types, Mince is a terror, he is here, there and yonder on all plays, a savage on defense. Duke somewhat smaller than Mince, depends on speed and cleverness. The guards are sturdy, football and make fine plays very difficult to execute for the opponents. Lock and Jug are in class by themselves. This boy Dumb is a whiz and with National as a team mate any line would feel safe. At quarter the sly field general, George has proven his class. He crosses the opposition beautifully, has a mathematical turn of mind that weighs each play. Last of Will is a heady quarter his word is final. Left half as well taken care of by Breach and Santa. Breach is a very elusive back of great promise, he makes few mistakes, can run pass and kick, he is a hard man to stop. Santa is the boy who brings in the good cheer, he has a bag of tricks and the opposition can never be sure of what he will do. Tuff and Joe make a pair of blocking right halves, who carry on and are a great aid in getting their more clever running mates in the open. At full, Hard is the boy who gives them the knocks, he gets yards when they are needed. A close rival is Ebb, his play effects the entire team.

As a final word the opinion is that this years All-American could hold its own with any past eleven. They are a fine lot of boys and deserve much credit for the work they have done this fall.

SCHEDULE

ANNOUNCED

TWENTY FIVE MEN SURVIVE THE FIRST "CUT" OF YEAR.

Under the guiding hand of Coach Mouney approximately twenty five men are practicing daily in order to reach the honor of being on the 1929 Panther Basketball squad. As Coach intends to only carry fifteen men on this year's squad and the freshman five being temporarily abolished, the final cut will probably be made at the end of this week or the beginning of the next. Although "cutting" might seem a disgrace to the basketball aspirant, it is better to come out and be cut than to be one of those who cast scathing remarks from the sidelines on the ability of the team to play basketball.

Five lettermen of last year who are, Telle, center, Rockwell and Wallin, forwards, and Naab and Garriott, guards, are the nucleus that the Panther squad is to be formed around. Several other new players are showing up exceedingly well and will prove to be capable substitutes. Rivalry seems to be very high among the candidates to see whom will consist the fortunate ten out of the twenty aspirants.

Although the schedule is not completely filled at present the greater part of the games are already scheduled. We open the season at home with Indiana Law College our opponents on Friday December the 13th. Following is the rest of the schedule as prepared up to date:

Jan. 9, Vincennes University, there.
Jan. 10, Oakland City, there.
Jan. 11, Rose Poly, Terre Haute.
Jan. 24, Indiana Central College, here.
Feb. 4, Earlham, Richmond.
Feb. 7, Indiana Law College, there
Feb. 8, N. A. G. U. at Indianapolis
Feb. 13 Vincennes University, here.
Feb. 15, Oakland City, here.
Feb. 21, Evansville, there
Feb. 22, Southern Illinois Normal University, there.
Feb. 25, Antioch College, Ohio, here.
Feb. 26, Indiana Central, there.

As made as above there are several noticeable gaps in the dates. Coach Mouney has several games tentatively scheduled although the final details have not been arranged. If the plans proceed as expected there will be several more games added on the following dates, Jan. 17 and 18, Jan. 31, Feb. 1 and 3, and Feb. 27, and 29th. In addition as our only game before the Christ-

13, either some practices will be staged or the team will engage in some tilts against several independent teams in the latter part of the vacation in order to keep in form for the rest of the season.

The list of men that now compose the squad after the first and next to the last out consists of McNulty, Higgs, Crooby, Lemon, Grinstead, Cooperider, Nicely, Ratts, McCandless, Green, Butt, Behmer, Moneyhon, Fuller, McGuffey, Guyer, Fox, Kaiser, Chapman, Miller, D. Lewis, and Telle, Garriott, Naab, Rockwell, and Wallin. Out of the above list, excluding the regulars ten men will be chosen to form the 1929 Panther basketball squad.

MANY GIRLS RECEIVE TROPHIES

FOR SERVICE IN WOMENS' PHYSICAL EDUCATION ACTIVITIES

Chapel last Monday was devoted jointly to the interests of the Women's Physical Education Department, headed by Miss Viola Mitchell and the Womens Athletic Association, headed by Miss Geneva Risk. Miss Mitchell in the first part of the chapel program announced that during the last six years in Hanover College soccer has become quite prominent among the sports. Approximately sixty-five girls were out for soccer the entire season this year. With such a quantity of good material it was quite difficult to choose a variety this year. Those awarded ribbons as varsity members were:

Forwards

Frances Allison.
Naomi Whitcomb.
Marjorie Archibold.
Ruth Winters.
Annabelle Green.

Halfbacks

Dorothy Stephan.
Hazel Boyd.
Mildred Dugan.

Fullbacks

Grace Seis.
Ethel Enterman.
Goalkeeper
Margaret Seagraves.
Substitutes

Dorothy Miles.
Emily Rea.
Crystal McGannon.
Mary Weber.
Evelyn Farrell.
Geneva Risk.

Honorable Mention.

Virginia Sullivan.
Ruth Carr.

The second phase of the program consisted of a talk by Geneva Risk concerning the purpose and work of the W. A. A. and the announcement of awards to the following girls:

Numerals.

Grace Seis.
Margaret Ricketts.
Mildred Dugan.
Jean Torrance.

Block "H"

Miriam Waggoner.
Naomi Whitcomb.
Margaret Yuler.
Geneva Risk.

Old English "H"

Dorothea Bramwell.
Although it is possible to be awarded an "H" sweater and an "H" blanket according to the total points 2,000 and 3,000 respectively, no girl yet has reached this high honor. It is expected however that if some of the freshmen women continue to receive awards as they have up to the present they may be able to win these high awards later in their college careers.

In Defence of Our Small College

"IF YOU HAVE TEARS—PREPARE TO SHED THEM NOW."

In the Vernacular of Today, with a Tinge of Slang, but Quite Expressive.

"Read It and Weep."

May I suggest, after you have done both and have satisfied yourself on these points and others not mentioned that the smaller colleges get together and take immediate and unanimous action to kill this insidious Freshman rule.

(This was clipped from the Chicago Tribune, November 24, 1929)
By Edward Burns

"FRESHMAN RULE BLIGHTS SMALL COLLEGES' HOPES

"No Longer Able to Gather Strong Eleven.

"Columbus Ohio, November 23.—This football season, like other seasons during the last few years, has caused at least some of the alumni and other friends of the small colleges to ponder the future fate of football in the small institutions.

"There are many who feel they would derive a great deal of comfort if their alma maters were to abandon intercollegiate competition except in hard and fast classifications which would prevent the little fellows from getting slaughtered by overmatching.

"Many feel that enforcement of the freshman rule has done much to blight the aspirations of small colleges. This rule has been found to be much more far reaching than the simple effect of preventing young men from engaging in inter-scholastic games during their first year.

"Deprived of Potential 4 Year Man

"In the days before the rule was adopted by so many of the colleges many youngsters who thought they might not go to college more than a year selected an institution where they could spend that one year in athletic competition. Then, when they found they cared for the college environment, they oftentimes continued through to graduation.

"Consider the youth with the same outlook today. If he's athletically inclined he frequently figures that as long as his first year is shot, anyhow, he may as well put in his sentence in the big time circuit. Result: The small college not only loses a freshman but a potential four year man.

"Thus weakened, the small colleges put on what usually is a pretty bum show for folks who like high class football. A few years ago a couple of small colleges with a lot of beefy frosh could give a more interesting performance than many of the big institutions with their stadium, bands and co-eds thrown in. But that's past.

"Results in Overmatching." "Receipts, never any too big for a small college operating within its own circle have dwindled terribly. And you can't keep a football team and playing plant going without receipts, no matter how much you hate commercialism.

"The result has been overmatching. A team needing money signs up for an early season game or a soft spot in a hard schedule with one of the big boys. Big time coaches, in the big salary class hungry for even more dough, rarely pity the little fellow with his short stack of white chips, and wreck the small club for not only a game but a whole season.

"This is tough on the physique of the players from the small college and sad for the loyal student body and the fussy graduates. It produces a state of affairs far more unhappy than any evils that could accrue from allowing freshmen to play on the teams of the smaller colleges.

"Cites Wabash's Example."

"We could cite a score of specific instances, but the proposition seems too general to require detailed discussion.

"We can be specific on one reaction however. On October 26, this year, the football team from Wabash college, the greatest little college in America, if you're willing to believe an alumnus, came to Evans-ton and took it on the chin, 66 to 0.

"In 1908, 1909, '10, 1911 and 1912 Wabash defeated the new conference champion, Purdue, and laid off their freshman the days they did it.

"We rejoice in Purdue's progress but what, we ask again, is to become of football in the small colleges?"

(Contributed by a gentleman interested in the future, athletically speaking of the small college.)

Home Brew

Little Homer K. Brew is back at the console again. I mean big Homer K. for after a long, long vacation, one has to increase one way or another. I am so full of turkey that I can taste turkey. I feel like a turkey and it looks as though I would be a turkey.

I can't think of a lot to say—these seems to be no news or scandal except Elder made a 109 yard run for Notre Dam. I bet if I had played in that team I wouldn't have been such a coward and ran the length of the field like that, would you? I hear Knute Rockney is working hard to get our fellow student "Blank" Goode to play on his wonderful eleven or twelve.

Well you or my audience I better down to business for $30,000 as Southern Indiana's best reporter doesn't float in the air and I can't float anyway. For the benefit of the girls here on the campus I'd like to announce that all the Beta boys have their pins back again so do your stuff. This is authentic and I didn't copy it from the Associated Press either.

I hear there was a big hoppy hop here not so long ago and as there was no sign up about "No spectators" some of the boys wanted to see how they did it. And do you know a great big man came and closed the door and we don't know yet if there was a draught of air or not.

The editor of this here paper tried to give you all by courtesy of L—y—man) the impression some way or the other that he wrote this column but I'm telling you I am the sole author of this, for no one else could write this good. Aren't they? All this nice snow sure ought to make it slick for someone. I can't guess who but some of us don't rate. Now take a mirror and figure that one out and after you do don't get mad 'cause it ain't my fault I was dropped when I was young.

Now since our collegiate confect is giving good service again I really think the "Shifter's Club" should hold their semi-annual meeting and I ask rite now for your support as I know that I will make a good president. I tried out on Kappa

Beta Phi once but I wasn't thirsty enough.

Well, dear people, I know you hate to have me stop, but I'm just so busy on this job and besides I think we'd better listen to the radio in the Girls' Dorm a while and rest our nerves.

Your,
HOMER K. BREW.

It seems that our friend H. I. Phillips considers present day college entrance questionnaires somewhat inadequate. He suggests this one:

- 1 Did you ever have any uncles who cut themselves while shaving?
- 2 Is your father satisfied with his bridge game?
- 3 Are you irremediable when faced with the opportunity to grab the brass ring on merry-go-rounds?
- 4 How is your Aunt Minnie?
- 5 Did any female members of your family ever stop to talk to and feed cookies to horses on the city streets?
- 6 Do you pull the sheets over your head when you hear the floor creak in the night?
- 7 Is your mother satisfied with the new cook?
- 8 Were any of your ancestors addicted to:

- (a) Side-whiskers.
  - (b) Croquet.
  - (c) Zithers.
  - (d) Dotted nightgowns.
- 9 Do you open your own soft-boiled eggs in a public dining room?
  - 10 Did you ever experience a complete loss of character?
  - 11 Are you timid in the presence of dentists?
  - 12 Are any members of your family, now living, still addicted to the high wheel bicycle craze?
  - 13 On which side did your great-grandmother sleep?
  - 14 How do you like your minute steak?
  - 15 Have there ever been any rickots, gas meter inspectors, delirium tremors, stamp collectors, hay fever or dog show judges in your family?

- 16 In sighting a rifle do you squint with the left eye or the right?
- 17 Have you at any time in your life ever tried to put pants on over your head?
- 18 What are your reactions when you are necking on a yacht club veranda when somebody fires the sun set gun?
- 19 Do you blush when abused by traffic policemen?
- 20 Have either of your parents ever written letters to the newspapers signed "Pro Bono Publico?"
- 21 Do you care for animal crackers?
- 22 Have you any uncles named Otis, Godfrey or Chester and did they raise mushrooms to earn money at home?

Criticizing university authorities for what it calls "snooping methods in sending spies to fraternity dances to detect drinking," the Michigan Daily in an editorial calls the practice "an utter subversion of the principles of honesty and fairness that heretofore have actuated the disciplinary forces of the university."

During the past week, three fraternities, Alpha Chi Rho, Delta Chi, and Phi Kappa, were forbidden to hold parties until the first of next March and Phi Beta Pi and Chi Chi were placed on probation for the rest of the year, for alleged drinking at parties.

UPPERCLASSMEN WIN GIRLS' INTERCLASS SOCCER TOURNAMENT.

Mr. Weather Man certainly refused to cooperate with the girls in the soccer classes, but in spite of the cold, dreary weather and snow during the two weeks before Thanksgiving was held, and even though the girls in the back field shivered and shook, and the forwards had to wear mittens (all the best soccer players in the country are wearing them), the games were fast and interesting.

The Upperclassmen defeated every team, but they had to fight to do it. In each game they played, the opposing team held them until the last quarter. Then, just when the interest was beginning to lag, the Juniors and Seniors lived things up by crashing through the opposing lineup, and kicking a goal, thus giving each game to the Upperclassmen with a score of 1-0.

The Freshmen A team took second place by defeating the Sophomores and the Freshman B teams, each game ending with a score of 1-0. The Sophomores won the game with the Freshman B's, which gave them third place in the tournament.

This tournament closes the soccer season, but basketball is starting now, and it will not be long until the girls will be having as much fun and excitement from the basketball tournaments as they have from the soccer contests.
