Theological Students, 12.

The course of studies pursued in this department is adapted to the plan of the Seminary, which requires three Professors; each of whom attends to the same class on different days of the week, or at different hours of the same day. It is also adapted to the time of continuance in the Seminary; viz. three years. The students are divided in three classes, the Junior, Middle and Senior. One year is spent in the studies of each of these classes.

With the Professor of Biblical Literature the Students attend to the original languages of the Scriptures, Biblical Literature, Archeology and Hermeneutics. With the Professor of Ecclesiastical History, to Sacred Chronology, Biblical and Ecclesiastical History, Church Government, and the Composition and Delivery of Sermons. With the Professor of Theology, to a short course of Mental and Moral Philosophy, Natural and Revealed Religion, Didactic, Polemic and Pastoral Theology.

During the first year, the Junior Class attends the Professor of Biblical Literature four days in the week; the Professors of Theology and History, each, one day in the week. The second year, the Middle Class attends the Professor of Theology three days in each week; the Professor of History two, and of Biblical Literature one. The third year, the Senior Class attends the Professor of History three days in each week; the Professor of Theology two, and of Biblical Literature one. Thus each of the Professors is engaged with the different classes six days in each week.

Lectures are delivered more or less frequently, as is deemed expedient; and such books as may be useful, on the different subjects, are recommended. The Students are examined at the close of each session on those subjects which have previously engaged their attention. They are required to illustrate, prove and defend all doctrines, and explain and enforce all duties, by explicit and appropriate passages from the Holy Scriptures. The Bible is admitted and studied as the supreme authority. In whatever order the different topics in theology may be considered, the doctrines inculcated, as nearly as can possibly be ascertained, are those of the Holy Scriptures. So far as any other text book than the Bible is used, it is the Confession of Faith. This book is to be adopted with all the solemnity of vows to God, by all who are to be licensed and ordained to the ministry, in the Presbyterian church, and ought to be well understood. It is, therefore, to be analyzed and compared, in all its details, with the Sacred Scriptures.
