Describe your day on May 15, 2021. Tell us whatever you'd like at whatever length you'd like. We think future students will especially appreciate hearing about concrete details -- What can you see and hear from where you are right now? What did you do for fun today? Did you cook or eat anything special? Did you work or do chores? Who did you spend time with? What did you learn?

Today I woke up later than I would've liked. I spent the day with my friend, Bo, playing video games and watching bad tv. The four walls of my room in Wiley have felt especially consuming today, but the sky is gloomy and grey. They say May Term is the best term.

What do you think you'll remember most about surviving the pandemic? Tell us what whatever you'd like at whatever length you'd like. We think future students will especially appreciate memories that help them picture your life and relationships -- Have you taken up any new leisure activities in the last year, or have you changed how you eat, or cook? If you're on campus, what was it like in classrooms or dining spaces or locker rooms or offices? Have you been able to stay in touch with family or friends (including classmates and other Hanoverians)? How? What have you missed the most in the past year?

I've slept more, painted more, and perfected making what I call a fancy grilled cheese. (It involves brie and raspberry preserves. Very tasty.) I miss my grandma, I haven't seen her since this whole thing started.

This is my contribution to the "One Day in May" project, which preserves the everyday experiences of Hanoverians on an ordinary spring day (in this case, May 15, 2021). I consent to its being made available to library users, and I grant Hanover College a nonexclusive, perpetual, royalty free license to use, duplicate and distribute it.
