HANOVERS 13 NEAR ALUMNI

OUR SENIORS

Arrayed in their robes of intellectual superiority of Seniorism, the Class of 1909 is awaiting the start of the Commencement exercises, which will lead up to the grand finale on the morning of June the ninth, when, receiving their coveted sheepskins, they will step up into that grand army of Hanover's Alumni.

Fifteen will sit on the platform Commencement day, nine men and six women. They have passed thru the state of Prepdom and that of the yearling, out of the sunny days of Sophomore land, and Juniorism. They have had their fun, and they have done their work. They have stood by the College through thick and thin, and the College will stand for them.

Far be it from our purpose to give a complete alibi and pedigree of all these illustrious persons, but a few dry facts will make them more easily recognized.

The first of these to catch our eye is the President, T. H. Montgomery, of Seymour, Indiana, Editor in Chief of last years "Renovah", foot ball three years, Captain this year, basket ball three years, manager last year, base ball two years, tennis team last year, Doolittle debating prize and a Sigma Chi.

Leslie MacDill, of Madison, is a brilliant student, played football one year, and is a Phi Delt.

Miss Mary Iddings is a Hanover product. She spoke on Junior exhibition and was Zete representative on the May exhibition in 1907. She was chosen by the class as a commencement speaker.

Miss Lee is another Hanoverite, a prominent Y. W. C. A. worker, a Zete, and a Commencement speaker.

Harry Miller hails from Princeton, Ky. He has been on the base ball team three years and is captain this year. He was manager of last seasons foot ball team. He is a Beta.

Lloyd Mann is a native of Indianapolis. He was on the 1908 foot ball team.

Miss Edna Kunkel is another product of Hanover. She has taken much interest in Literary Society work, being on the May exhibition this year.

Miss Bertha Boyer is from Otto Indiana. Besides being a good student she has been a zealous Zete.

Miss Marguerite Button originally came from LaGrange, Ky. She was on the May exhibition in 1906.

Miss Emily Quick is from Indianapolis. She is President of the Chresto Literary Society, a member of the Dramatic Club and Gilpin Prize Essayist for 1909.

Dewitt C. Reynolds was roped off the plains near Albany, Tex. He was Business manager of 1908 "Renovah", and manager of the 1908 base ball team. He spoke on the Junior exhibition. He is a charter member of the Press Club and a Phi Delt.

M. R. Schnaitter is a voter from Brooksbury. He is a Math Shark of the worst degree, a member of the Dramatic club, and 1908 Gilpin Prize Essayist. He is one of the charter members of the Press club.

William Niklaus, another one from Brooksbury, won the Potter Medal, 1906. Football, 1908. Dramatic club. Inter Society Contest, 1908.

Carl P. Sherwin took his first two years here and then entered Stetson University at Deland, Fla. He dropped in again this term and

WHO ARE EDUCATED.

Seniors exit! They have toiled through these four years with something in view, whether they discerned any particular goal in their Freshman year or not, nonetheless there has been an unconscious strife for self development. Perhaps some have never asked themselves that widely quoted question: "What am I here for?" It may never have occurred to some, as a Freshman, Sophomore or as a Junior that he was here for any great thing. But, in his last year he looks forward, then back over the four year's expanse and—maybe—he sighs—perhaps regrets—deeply.

But they are gone. Whether or not their four years meant education to them is simply history. It is for the rest of us to look to ourselves.

"Just what is the purpose of your study; to what end do you pour over your books and solve problems of a scientific character? Is it that you may recite on the following day and make a 'hit' with the professor and incidentally draw a high grade at the end of the term, or is it that you, by such personal effort, are developing a thinking brain and attaining a broad education?" The foregoing is the expression of the DePauw student publication. It goes on to say:—"There is entirely too much stress laid upon the making of 'one' in DePauw. The student who can make such a grade is, without further discussion, ranked as a scholar; he is the man to whom we are supposed to look for an example of scholarly studentship. But the making of a high grade does not necessarily imply that the maker has mastered the subject; that he has grasped the fundamental principles which his professor has aimed to teach.

A man should come to College with the intention of broadening his mind of enriching his store of knowledge along certain definite lines. of developing a character that will be of service to mankind. The DePauw student worships too devoutly at the shrine of "His Highness, the one."

That little "god" has become a jealous ruler. And while burning sacrifices at this altar to the god the student has forgotten and excluded the basic principles of his college education.

It concludes with the assertion that the Freshman becomes early inclined with the idea that the high grade is the highest goal of college attainment. This principle is held up to him as fundamental rather than that of the mastery of his subject.

The 1909 class has in it the element of laborers for the cause of the men with whom they come in contact. We believe they hold up to us the standard which every Senior class has cherished, and which their professors have so ardently desired throughout these years, namely, that of sound education.

is thinking of graduating. He is a chemistry "wiz" and is a Sigma Chi.

E. S. Bridges will also get his diploma with the class. At the present he is ably superintending the Schools of Carrollton, Ky.

There is little reason why the history be more detailed than this. They have had many honors but there are many honors yet to be heaped on them, many places of responsibility awaiting them. May they put into their life, whatever is their calling, the same energy, and the same perseverance that has characterized their college career.

GRADUATING HONORS.

At last it has been announced who is the Valedictorian and who the Salutatorian of the '09 graduating class. Thro the last two or three terms the grades of two or three Seniors have differed so slightly that a great deal of doubt as to the possible winner has been expressed. This doubt was cleared away when it was announced that T. H. Montgomery and Leslie MacDill are Valedictorian and Salutatorian, respectively.

The speakers for the Senior Academy Graduating Exercises will be, Anna Schlichter, Helen Webb, Arthur Iddings, W. C. Peters, Alice Craig, and Elsie Boyer.

NOTICE.

It was learned, the first of the week, that Rev. Clarence H. Wilson, of Crawfordsville, will be unable to address the joint meeting of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. Rev. John Kennedy, of the Walnut street church of Evansville, will deliver this address.

Beebe, of Earlham, is again champion of the I. C. A. L. He had a worthy opponent in Millar, of Hanover, who was stronger than Wentz, of Rose.

The Earlhamite. The Purdue team has just finished one of the greatestest winning trips it has ever taken, defeating such strong teams as Chicago, Northwestern, and Wisconsin, the latter in thirteen fast innings.

CLASS TRACK MEET.

MANY EVENTS ARE LISTED.

Monday, morning, June 7, at 9:00 o'clock the Annual track and field meet will occur. Much interest is being taken in this list of events and good work is being done by the separate class captains to bring their class in trim for winning the meet. The points will be counted up by classes and not by individuals. Firsts counting five points, seconds three points and thirds one point. The class winning the largest number of points carries off the honors of the day.

All athletes are especially urged to come out and make the competition lively. Everyone else is requested to come and cheer on the Hanover stars.

Competition will be so close that it would be hard to make any predictions as to possible winners. Especially will this be true in the dashes, the mile, the hurdles and the relay.

Persons wishing further information will communicate with W. H. Nagel, Gymnasium Director; F. C. Mihs, track Captain; and H. M. Marble, manager of track.

NEW WASHINGTON DEFEATS HANOVER.

In a hit, run, and miss game, New Washington defeated Hanover last Monday by a score of 7-6. The Hanover players took the game as a joke for the first few innings, and, when they found it was a stern reality, New Washington had six runs. Dawson then replaced Cooley and the game tightened up. But we were unable to overcome the lead New Washington has established.

Slawson played the best game for Hanover, getting three hits and playing a good game at third. Comment on the rest of the team, with the possible exception of Drew and Cooley, might be deleterious to their reputation.

New Washington certainly has a bunch of "pill punchers", as well as umpire raggers.

DRAMATIC CLUB ORGANIZES.

In order to carry on things in a business like way, the Dramatic club got together on Wednesday afternoon and got things in shape for a permanent and beneficial organization. The result of the election of officers was: President, J. B. Allison; Secretary and Treasurer, Mary Chapman; Business manager, W. T. Millar; Librarian and Property man, F. C. Millis.

Such strides have been taken this year by the club that it is naturally expected that next year things will be running as smooth as they do in any other well planned organization.

GIRLS MAY EXHIBITION.

Decision Could Only Have Been a Tie.

The May exhibition of the two Young Ladies Literary Societies was certainly a rare treat. The Young Ladies on both sides did so well that even an experienced judge must certainly have counted the result as a tie and as no real victory.

The music by the Mandolin Club was of its general good order. The Solo by Miss McLelland, accompanied by Miss Charlton, was one of the best numbers on the program.

The program was as follows:

SENIOR PREP PICNIC.

Altho no secret had been made of it, none bothered the Senior Preps as they quietly walked out of town Saturday afternoon about 4:30 o'clock. Their destination was the Reed home on the Hanover Pike. At evening the good things were eaten in picnic style and consequently the visitors that came later on found no "eats" to swipe. Games and music were enjoyed until about 9:30 when the party broke up.

COLLEGE BITS.

Miss Ann McComb, of St. Louis, is visiting her sister, Miss Louis McComb. She will remain until after the commencement.

C. Chamberlain, class '98, was in Hanover last week.

Miss Laura Reynolds and Messrs Dewitt Reynolds and Russell Nowlin spent the week end at the home of Misses Ella and Ferdie McIn-tire near Milton, Ky.

Mrs. Charles Branham, of North Madison, spent last Thursday and Friday with her daughter, Miss Minnie Branham, at the "Dorm".

Prof. C. M. Marble came up from Jeffersonville last Friday on a short visit to his family. He was accompanied by his father and sister.

Last Friday evening the Sigs entertained with a dance at their Chapter House.

Tuesday afternoon the school became terribly upheaved by the arrival of the '08 Renovah.
