

INDEPENDENT MEN AND BETAS WIN

FINALS TO BE HELD SOON

Intramural debates were won this week by the Betas and the Independent Men. On Tuesday night the Beta team, composed of Loren Martin, Lewis Thomas, and Herman Allen successfully defended the affirmative side of the question, Resolved: that the United States should cancel her war debts owed to her as a result of the World War. The opposing team representing the Phi Delta Theta fraternity, was composed of Emerson Weymouth, Bernard Corson, and Hendon Harris. On Thursday night the negative team of the Independent Men, composed of Ronald Beard, William Grayler, and Maurice Graston defeated the affirmative team of Theta Kappa Nu, which was composed of Lawrence Evans, Harry Weir, and Lewis Jacob.

On Tuesday, December 13 the Betas will debate the Phi Gams, the winner of this contest to meet the Independent Men in the final debate of the series.

CHRISTMAS PLAY TO BE PRESENTED

GERMAN CLUB WILL DE- PICT NEW-OLD SCENE

"Der Stern der Bethlehem" will be presented by Die Deutsche Gesellschaft Friday morning, December 16, in the College Chapel at the usual chapel hour. The Christmas story of Mary and Joseph will be enacted by eighteen members of the German department with a choir offering the musical accompaniment.

The leading parts of Mary and Joseph are to be taken by Frauleinen Garnett Schirmer and Herr Clark Truesdale, respectively. Herren Becker, Graylor, and Lasher will be seen as the Three Wise Men. Frauleinen Beck, Ernest, Rankin, Snyder, and Truesdale appear as angels in the familiar Yuletide play. Bruno Kvetinskas is to have the role of the keeper of the inn. The shepherds are to be represented by Herren E. Anderson, E. Boone, Burkhardt, Healy, Peltzer, Poe, and Wheeler. The choir is to be composed of Frauleins Price, Rogers, Scott, and Wimer.

In answer to numerous requests, Die Deutsche Gesellschaft is presenting this same play which met with such favor last year. The chapel is to be darkened as much as possible and flood lights will be used to illuminate the scene.

Fraulein Iris Wimer will sing "Behold a Branch is Growing", followed by selections from the choir. At different occasions throughout the play the choir will offer the numbers, "It Came Upon a Midnight Clear", "Come Hither, Ye Faithful", "Luther's Cradle Hymn", "O Little Town of Bethlehem", and "Stille Nacht! Heilige Nacht!" Although lines and songs are to be given in German, the story, so well known to all of us, easily unfolds itself.

A daughter, Marilyn Elizabeth, was born recently to Mrs. Sidney Cofield (Margie Hancock) of Madison. Margie was of the class of '23, and Mr. Cofield attended De Pauw.

FACULTY DECIDES MEETING NIGHT

Departmental Clubs on Wed.

At a meeting of the Faculty Monday, December 5th, it was voted that all departmental clubs shall meet on Wednesday evenings after the regular "Y" meetings. This will leave Tuesday and Thursday free for the musical organizations.

Plans were also started for the celebration of our one hundredth commencement which is to take place next June. Miss Fitton is chairman of the commencement committee. A committee was appointed to consider summer school for next year. Dr. Kutz was made chairman of this committee. Chapel attendance was also discussed in the meeting.

DR. PARKER SPEAKS ON ALUMNI TYPES

MERITS OF GOOD ALUMNI GIVEN

President Parker spoke on "The Various Types of Alumni" at the Tuesday morning chapel service.

He described the alumni who write back to their alma mater, condemning the football team, the faculty, and the students, and even the course of study offered. Critics usually prove on investigation to have low scholarship records, to owe the college money, or to have some private ax to grind, he declared.

On the other hand, there are those alumni who write in, giving their approval of the progress made by the school and commending the faculty and new courses of study who never lose their interest and loyalty; who serve on alumni boards and committees—in short, who in every way support the college.

In closing, Dr. Parker urged the present student body to write often when they become alumni and keep the college informed of their whereabouts and activities. They were also asked to support the best interests of the college at all times, with such contributions of time, money and energy as they may be able to make.

EVANGELIST MAKES CHAPEL DISCOURSE

GIVING STRESSED AS ELEMENT OF SUCCESS

Claims of Jesus was the subject of the chapel service Monday, Dec. 5, in charge of Dr. John Hamilton, an evangelist who has been holding meetings at the Madison Presbyterian Church.

His text told of the Jews wanting to change the sign of the cross of Jesus from "This is Jesus, King of the Jews" to "I have said I am Jesus, King of the Jews." But it was not changed, and, as Dr. Hamilton declared, "Our King Jesus, shall never know defeat."

Later he said, "We should each have a day of consecration, a day in which we give ourselves to Jesus. God has put a price on spiritual power: Give all of yourself to Him and He will give all of Himself to you."

Francis Johnson Elected Treasurer

"Although the Sophomore class has no funds to handle as yet," it now has a Treasurer. At a meeting of the class Friday after chapel Francis Johnson was elected to fill the office.

The meeting was necessary because of a tie between Johnson and Herman Allen which occurred during the election held earlier in the year.

ROOM DEDICATED TO E. P. WHALLON

IS PRESENT FOR SERVICES

To Dr. Edward P. Whallon, Wyoming, Ohio, a graduate from Hanover in 1868 and the oldest living alumnus of the college, the room above the President's office was formally dedicated at Academic Assembly, Thursday, December 8. This room was dedicated to Dr. Whallon in recognition of his services to the college. He has been a member of the Board of Trustees for fifty-three years, and has given generously of his time, money, and work for the betterment of the college.

Dr. Herbert Meyer read the eulogy of Dr. Whallon, and Dr. Parker made the formal presentation. Dr. Whallon himself was the main speaker, the subject of his speech being "Will Power".

The first point that he made in his address was on the value of strength of purpose in developing the character. Will is the key to success. Whatever we do, we should do it with all our might. A good motto for everyone to adopt is, "I will; therefore, I succeed. I strive, combat, achieve, accomplish, and I am a real man, a real woman."

If we are to learn, we must have force behind us, just as a gun has force to make it fire. Behind good character we must have good intellect, and behind intellect we must have a strong consecrated will.

"I shall, or I will. Which will it be?" Dr. Whallon asked. I will is a command. I shall is a compulsion. Whatever the difference between these two words, the one who can use them correctly has character and distinction.

Dr. Whallon next discussed the control of thinking. People who cannot control their thinking think shallow, skeptical, and unpure thoughts. The high soul chooses the high road; the low soul chooses the low road. Think the right things, and be in the sight of God and Man a good person with a good character.

The speaker's third point was on the control of feeling. Above all we must have a good reputation. We are responsible for what we do and say. We must have a good reputation to have influence on others.

Dr. Whallon then brought out the importance of the control of wills. Keep a strong hold on yourself and on your will. Know the highest wisdom. Say and do the things that you ought to say and do. "When duty whispers low, 'You must,' the youth replies, 'I can'."

In closing he said, "Let your intellects be God trained. Have your good sense trained so as to love the good and the pure. Learn to say 'I will' and 'I will not' in both the presence and the absence of your friends."

Y. M. C. A. & Y. W. C. A. CHRISTMAS PARTY

SANTA AND TOYS HA! HA!

On Wednesday night, December 14th, from 7:30 till 9:30 the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. are giving a Christmas party. Everyone who comes is requested to bring a toy. These toys will be distributed later by Santa Claus (guess who?) who will arrive by way of the chimney at 9 o'clock. There will be a short program of Christmas carols, games, readings and contests. Dancing will follow.

The Y. W. C. A. will decorate and the Y. M. C. A. will have charge of the refreshments. Everyone is invited. The toys will be left at the "Y" building following the party and will be given to the children at the Y. W.'s children's party to be given next Sunday night.

MEDICAL APTITUDE TESTS CONDUCTED

SHEPHERD & TRUESDALE TAKE EXAMINATION

A national aptitude test sponsored by the American Medical Association was taken by two pre-med students, Marston Shepherd and Clark Truesdale, at three o'clock, Friday afternoon, December 9, under the supervision of Professor Guthrie. Shepherd was graduated from Hanover College in 1930, and has been taking additional work this year. Truesdale is a sophomore.

The papers were forwarded to Washington, D. C., where they will be graded. A report will be sent to all the medical colleges of the United States, but not to the students. This test is required for entrance into any class of medical school. It is given once a year in approximately seven hundred colleges to over 9200 men and women.

A time limit of thirty minutes for study and thirty minutes for writing must be observed. The examination is divided into seven parts: namely, comprehension and retention; visual memory; memory for content; logical reasoning; scientific vocabulary, which division is almost one-third of the test; ability for following directions; and understanding of printed material.

ALPHA DELTA DANCE HELD AT ARMORY

The Alpha Delta Pi sorority gave a formal dance Saturday night at the Madison Armory. The hall was decorated in the spirit of the approaching Christmas holidays. At the end of the hall stood a large Christmas tree, lighted and trimmed with Christmas ornaments. Nearby stood two smaller trees that aroused curiosity until the feature dance revealed their importance. The ceiling and walls were festooned in vivid colors typical of the season.

Paul Crawford and his orchestra, of Aurora, new to the students of Hanover, provided the music.

The chaperones of the occasion were Professor and Mrs. Entorf, Professor and Mrs. Meyer, Miss Andrews, Miss Anderson, Miss Fitton, and Mrs. Spaulding.

FRATERNITIES HOLD ANNUAL SESSION

BUTLER UNIVERSITY WILL BE HOST

The Indiana Interfraternity State Council met at Butler University, Saturday, Dec. 10. Delegates from the national fraternities on the Hanover campus were Forrest Beemish, who is vice-president of the Council this year, and Henry Coombs from Phi Gamma Delta; William Faulds and Clark Truesdale from Beta Theta Pi and Vincent Guenther from Phi Delta Theta.

The Indiana State Interfraternity Council was organized at Franklin College, Dec. 13, 1930. The constitution provides for an annual conference, and the executive committee announced that the third annual conference would be held at Butler University, Indianapolis, Sat., Dec. 10, 1932, under the auspices of the Butler Interfraternity Council.

The opening session took place at ten forty-five o'clock in Jordan Hall. Addresses were given by Dr. Walter S. Athearn, President of Butler, and John L. Gushman, Secretary of Interfraternity Affairs at Ohio State University. The annual message of R. E. Blackwell, the Executive Secretary was given at the noon luncheon served at the Butler Campus Club. The afternoon was devoted to a series of informal discussions of fraternity problems.

HANOVER COLLEGE GIVEN NEW SONG

PRESENTED AT THE ACADEMIC CHAPEL

A new song "To Hanover" was sung for the first time at the academic chapel last Thursday. The song is anonymous at present.

Following are the words:

TO HANOVER

Tune— Drink to me only with thine eyes.

Scaled in our hearts such beauty rare

As ne'er forgot can be

And though far, far away,

We'll remember with deep poignancy.

Such beauty rare o'erflows the soul

And lifts it unto God.

That man henceforth lives of the spirit

No longer of the clod.

Burned in our hearts these friendships sweet

Which fill our lives with zeal.

As comrades share these joy-filled days

We find a joy that's real.

Long years may pass but still we'll feel

These ties of college days

And loyalty will flow unchecked

In life's declining rays.

Grav'n in our hearts the way of life

Which we have learned from thee:

The way of service, love and truth

Links man with eternity.

The way of God—the only way

Dear Hanover, thou hast taught.

Let evermore, we humbly pray,

This way in our lives be wrought.

Chapel

To the Editor of the Triangle:

Sir: What will be the effect on chapel attendance by the appeal that went out last Wednesday from the faculty to the students, still remains to be seen. The alternative to the appeal was to institute a system of monitorship which would be unpleasant, unpopular and unmodern, but perhaps more effective.

In making this plea the faculty is mindful of the following facts; first, that Chapel has been an integral part of this institution since its founding. It is in no way to be classed as a tradition. Traditions can become obsolete, or harmful to the institution then they should be discarded. Chapel is a part of the warp of the college like the classes and must continue to perform as long as this is Hanover College. Second, Chapel is the only common meeting place of the whole student body and faculty and as student and teachers we are in duty bound to attend; third, the students having given their written pledge on entering college are in honor bound to attend.

It is surely evident to everyone who has given the matter any reflection at all that the chapel committee is putting forth a continuous effort to make attractive programs. It is, of course, impossible to please everybody all the time and yet it seems that considering our isolated situation here, the programs are varied enough so that none can be continually bored. It seems unreasonable that any student can feel himself justified in failing to come for fifteen or twenty minutes to this gathering even if it is only to sing a hymn or to bow together in a word of prayer.

A Faculty Member.

To Triangle:

A recent announcement by the faculty states that, unless a more numerous chapel attendance is forthcoming, it may be necessary to institute a period of checking on absences. This is a lamentable possibility for more reasons than one. However, we can directly answer the faculty in this manner: let all organized groups strongly recommend that their members attend chapel in a body—I know of one definite group who has ruled that all pledges must attend chapel unless for good excuse in non-attendance. Furthermore, all actives are strongly urged to do likewise. Were all fraternities and sororities, together with the unorganized groups, to institute such a move, it would certainly result in the capacity chapel attendance. This would fill the mechanical requirements of the faculty's very honest appeal, and would "save face" for the school since no college likes to go on record as driving its students to religious exercises.

Then, too, we must understand that the chapel committee is continually putting forth its best efforts for better, consistently more interesting programs. The variety of their nature cannot be disputed. There seems to be satisfaction with the type of programs offered except that many would like to have a great deal more music, both instrumental and vocal.

We cannot offer much enlightening comment upon the changing natures of undergraduates, for we are too close to ourselves to have much of a perspective. However, perhaps it is the spirit of the times as much as anything else. Outside in the world things are getting rather desperate for millions of people. Many of them feel a lack of something that should be there. Here at Hanover we are in the midst of a more prosperous section of the country. It is like being in a world apart. Really it is nothing more than a soft berth and easy pickings, to use a slang term. The undergraduate ten years from now will have something less rosy to remember in his home life, granted that he manages to get to college. He, having known mental downheartedness, will have more deep enthusiasms, and religion may very likely be one of those enthusiasms. We are too falsely blasé.

Quoting from the words of prominent college men: "As a general rule the college man forgets the forms of his childhood religion, while the faiths become matters of indifference. Organized religions do not pass the test of the student's scientific method of thought. He becomes an agnostic, although he may call himself an atheist, erecting a religion of his own, a religion of individuality, based on intelligent behavior."

"In favor of compulsory chapel is a precedent of nearly two hundred years standing. It also has a restraining influence of a sort. But to have a congregation assume an attitude of sincerity by compulsion is pretense, and pretense is vulgarity. Therefore, compulsory chapel to me is morally wrong."

Offering another angle: "In principle, compulsory chapel is scarcely defensible. In practice, however, the issue is at least debatable. Two things should be remembered—first, the individual needs a personal, fundamental philosophy of life to underlie as a stabilizing influence his particular activities whatever they may be; secondly, the philosophy and ethics of Christianity are sufficiently important to warrant intelligent consideration in the formation of any personal philosophy."

"If these statements are true, a minimum amount of compulsory attendance and contact with basic Christian principles may well be justifiable. It seems to me that the Chapel system as it is in Princeton today does sufficient practical good to more than outweigh the occasional inconveniences which it causes."

KEE-NOTES

by
LORRAINE KEE

Bits about 'em: Maybe it never occurred to Marthanne Hamblen and "Dean" Cough that the interfraternity debates weren't held in Science Hall. . . . Amelia Auxier and Andy didn't know that there was anyone at the Phi Mu pledge dance last Friday night. Have you ever seen them when they see each other in the hall? . . . "Jan" Clark has a temper. . . . Corkey sings "I love the pin" in an inimitable fashion. . . . Highlights of the intramural volleyball games: Harvey's waist-line and Larry Evans' legs. . . . "We ain't got no flag". . . . I hear that "Ronnie" Beard is planning big things for the Christmas holidays. . . . Joy Kelsey found herself in an embarrassing situation the other day when David Fox said that he bet she had changed her mind about taking him to the Alpha Delta dance since she had phoned him Friday. Joy was non-plussed to say the least because she wasn't even sure of the boy's name. . . . Butch Warn wanted to know whether Opal Boyd had a pantie-waist with her new green smock. Opal blushed and dashed for the kitchen. In a few minutes she reappeared with a bowl of mashed potatoes, very much composed, and brazenly declared, "Yes, and bloomers too."

Oh, "Ope"!
Here are a few pet peeves—
Amelia Auxier: being called "Camille".
Corson and Thayer: Jerry Hay, because he's a general nuisance when he wants to sleep.
"Butch" Warn: shaving.
Maxine Lane: saying, "Yes, it certainly is getting cold" to twenty faculty members every Wednesday afternoon when I deliver their books for the Faculty Reading Club.
Jerry Hay: having to wear my plain pin every time, I float the jeweled one.
Dick Williams: Johnny Gwin ploving upstairs when I'm asleep.
Joe Maziekas: some wise guy throwing cold water on me when I'm taking a warm shower.
Me: Thursdays.

Grace Nixon and Maxine Lane spent Saturday in Louisville.

HANOVER FIVE WIN 42-21

RANEY AND MENOZZI STAR

Hanover's Red and Blue Panthers knocked the lid off the steaming basketball cauldron Friday night by defeating Indiana Law School 42 to 21.

The game was not exceptionally fast but was interspersed with spasmodic burst of speed which brought cheers from the crowded bleachers. The passing was fast and accurate but the percentage of shots which swished through the hoop was low.

The Panthers were not hitting as they probably will when the rough edges have been sanded down.

The opponents had the advantage of having played one game before meeting the Panthers, but this seemed to make little difference to Hanover's men.

The first half ended with Hanover holding a five point lead. In the second half, Indiana Law School shoved the Van Liewmen lead to a narrow margin. However in the closing moments of play a barrage of baskets sent Hanover far into the lead.

Raney, diminutive Red and Blue forward, was outstanding for his team. He scored 17 points. His running mate, Menozzi, scored 13. Maglin, forward, was sparkling in the play of the future barristers.

Summary of Hanover I. L. S. Game.

Hanover (42)	Indiana Law S. 21
McNulty 4	F Maglin 9
Menozzi 13	F Simmons 6
Gwin 2	C Hughes 5
Raney 17	G Chadd 3
Meese 17	G Davidson 2
Gilliland 4	McVey 2

HANOVER HIGH FIVE SPLIT GAMES

DEFEAT PEKIN 28-20

In the preliminary game, Central High School defeated Hanover High School 9-7.

Hanover (7)	Central (9)
Judkins 0	Stewart 1
Earhardt 3	Scott 6
Richmond 0	Little 0
Moore 0	Green 1
Waggoner 4	Mel 2
	De Armond 0

The next night the Cubs showed renewed spirit by defeating Pekin 28-20. This team is possible the strongest Hanover has had to play.

LAST YEARS RESULTS

Last year's record shows that the Panthers completed the 1931-32 basketball schedule with 10 games won and 6 lost:

Hanover 33-N. A. G. U. 20
Hanover 34-Indiana L a w School 24
Hanover 30-Joliet College 22
Hanover 14-Central Normal 30
Hanover 11-Butler 38

Hanover 26-Indiana Central 21
Hanover 31-Rose Poly 14
Hanover 27-Earhart 34
Hanover 50-Anderson 19

DR. KUTZ ATTENDS DIRECTORS MEETING

Teaching Methods Is Topic Of Talks

Dr. Kutz attended the annual meeting of the Directors of Teacher Training of Indiana at DePauw last Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. The meeting is held each year to discuss the current status of teacher training in the state and to offer suggestions for its improvement. The president of DePauw University was one of the main speakers of the occasion. His subject was "Education in a Changing World." The director of the department of education of the University of Michigan discussed modern methods in education, as applied to the department of teacher training.

PANTHER NET MEN MEET TWO TEAMS

FRANKLIN AND MIAMI ARE CONTENDERS

This week-end the Panther netmen will invade the lairs of Franklin and Miami, Franklin, Friday night and Miami Saturday night. Although expecting some tough opposition in these games, Coach Van Liew is confident the boys will make a good showing.

In the past, Franklin has turned out some strong basketball teams and it is expected it will be one of this kind that the Panthers will be turned loose against Friday night. Miami plays Purdue two nights before she meets the Panthers, which shows what kind of opposition the Red and Blue are up against Saturday night.

HANOVER SPORTS BREAK INTO COMICS

DAILY SEES ACTION

Believe it or not, Hanover is in the funny papers. Well if it isn't a comic strip, then it's a sport strip; but, anyway, Hanover is there. Furthermore Hanover is winning the football game—in the sport strip. What's it all about? Simply this:

In a sport story strip by Bob Zupke, famous football coach, published in the Des Moines Tribune last week a school called Carver is represented as getting beaten by Hanover. One of the pictures shows the Hanover end receiving a long pass and crossing the goal line for a touchdown. Whether the creator of this strip had Dailey in mind when he drew this we don't know, or whether he was inspired to name one of the teams Hanover after hearing of the Panthers' successful season we have no information, but anyway it's there in black and white.

You don't believe it? Then ask Coach Van Liew about it or any of the people to whom he has proudly shown it.

Mary McCulloch spent the week-end at her home in Jeffersonville, Indiana with Anne Robertson as her guest.

Panther Paws By FRITZ CHAPMAN

The king of Indiana sports is now in command, and the Panthers inaugurated their season with a 42-21 victory over Indiana Law School. Not bad for a start!

Meese made his basketball debut and he also made one point during his stay in the game.

Raney and Menozzi were high pointers for the evening; Raney soaked the bucket for 16 points, and Menozzi did the same for 13.

Somebody said that Millican had a green shirt. Was it ever dazzling? Yes, and Jean had a red jacket. . . Christmas is almost upon us.

Quite a number of fouls were missed but the season is just starting—the basket eyes aren't trained yet.

Franklin and Miami are the next foes and both games are away from home. The Baptist game is Thursday and the one with Miami is the following night.

The contest Thursday begins again an intense rivalry between the two schools. The last game played with Franklin was many years ago and I believe some of the alumni could tell us that it ended in a battle royal. The encounter with Miami will be one of the hardest in the schedule. The "Miami-ians" stand high in the Buckeye League.

Every one was expecting a freak play when Coach Van Liew sent the second team to his office. They went in to warm up.

Gilliland pulled four points in the last half. He was playing in his first game for Hanover.

HISTORY REVEALS W. A. A. GROWTH

A few years ago a small group of girls thought of the idea of forming an organization for the purpose of promoting women's athletics, instead of struggling along with exercises because it was required for graduation. The purpose of the club was to promote sports on this campus, to co-operate with the Department of Physical Education for Women, and to develop a more democratic spirit among the students.

A charter was granted from the college. Membership was open to all girls who hiked fifty-one miles. Then the struggle to earn points for letters and sweaters began.

Under the supervision of Miss Mitchell, athletics for girls developed rapidly. She took an active part in W. A. A. In 1928 this organization became a member of the National Athletic Conference of American College Women. In 1928, the Hanover W. A. A. sponsored a conference which led to the founding of a state Women's Athletic Association.

The growth of the organization made it necessary to rent and furnish a room or headquarters in the Dormitory in which to hold meetings.

The first High School Play Day was held in the spring of 1929. Over one hundred and fifty girls were present from Jefferson and surrounding counties. The purpose was to promote "play for play's sake" among High School girls.

The next year the constitution was revised and the requirements were made more rigid. Various tournaments and contests were sponsored. Nearly ninety-five per cent of the women in college participated in some form of physical activity.

New sports were added to the curriculum; new activities were undertaken. In the fall of 1930, volleyball came to the campus. That spring another Play Day was held.

Spring of 1932 found hockey a popular sport among the co-eds. The High School Play Day proved more than ever an attraction.

This fall Danish Gymnastics has a strong support for a new class. Through these few years the Women's Athletic Organization has grown in numbers and strength. Its success is due to people who were at one time freshmen. The success and strength for 1932-'33 depends upon this year's freshman girls—so that is why you should know about this association.

PHI GAMS LEAD VOLLEYBALL LIST

BETA AND THETA NUS TIE

The Intramural Volleyball tournament got off to a flying start this week with all the organizations placing powerful teams on the floor and large crowds attending. On Monday the Phi Gams defeated the Phi Deltas in two straight games, 15-12, 15-11. Both games were hard fought with Mannix and Harvey outstanding. The Betas eked out a thrilling victory over the Independents Tuesday by the score of 15-13, 9-15, 15-14. This was easily the sensational match of the week. Martin played a fine game for the Betas while Flick was best for the Independents. On Wednesday the Thetas won over the Phi Deltas, 15-9, 15-12. The winners showed a great brand of team play which was led by Martin and Lemen. The Phi Gams ended the week by taking the Independents in straight games. The first game was won by the close score of 15-13, but the Phi Gams ran away with the second, 15-2. Flick was outstanding for the Independents.

How they stand:

	W	L	Pct.
Phi Gamma Delta	2	0	1.000
Beta Theta Pi	1	0	1.000
Theta Kappa Nu	1	0	1.000
Phi Delta Theta	2	0	.000
Independents	2	0	.000

Y. M. C. A. CONFERENCE GROUPS COMPLETED

Hanover College Y. M. C. A. has successfully completed its semester schedule of Sunday morning conference groups. The various groups have had an interesting six weeks of discussions at the various houses on the campus. Professor Seibert has been the leader at the Beta House, Professor Barker at the Phi Delta House, and Professor Wickwire at the Phi Gam House. The Y. plans to sponsor a similar series of Sunday morning talks and group discussions for next semester.

FRESHMAN FINALS

Mr. A. C. LaFollette, professor of public speaking and coach of debate of North Vernon High School, has been secured as critic judge for the final Freshman debate, according to Professor Conklin.

The debate will be held Thursday evening at 7:30 in the chapel. The Phi Mus will take the negative side of the question and the Betas the affirmative side.

Advice on Perplexing Problems By AUNT SOFY

Dear Aunt:

Now what I want to know is,
what's wrong with basketball?
Ain't it a nice gentlemanly sport?
Louise says choose between her and basketball and I would like both. What to do? What to do?
Ikey Herzer

Dear Ikey:

Haven't you heard the old adage
"You can't have your cake and eat it too"? Well then, why not try a sport more suited to your aristocratic type such as ping pong or polo? If you decide on polo you could borrow one of the old brooms from the girls dorm and gallop about the hockey field and I'm sure Louise would cheer you on from her bedroom window.

Dear Aunt Sofy:

I have two problems. You see Clark and I didn't show up for choir rehearsal one night and the faculty conduct committee decided we would "bear watching." Now you can't imagine how hard it is to slip out nights. What with all this and those noisy girls on my corridor I think I shall go mad.
Margaret Rogers

Dear Maggie:

Tsk, tsk, and you a student council member too! But if you continue to carouse around nights, I have found that the best way to get out is with the aid of a string ladder which is in circulation among those connoisseurs of midnight reveling at the girls' dorm.

If you'll stop giving so many demerits to the girls in your corridor they'll probably loan it to you a couple of nights a week.

Dear Aunt Sofy:

Since the success of our poem in last week's Triangle we have decided to do nothing but poetry writing from now on. We are a bit anxious about selling our poems.
Where can we find a market for them?

Mart Carpenter
Buford Mannix

Dear Children:

I am most enthusiastic over your literary efforts. You might peddle the poems in bushel baskets in the confec and at the boys' dormitory on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons.

My dear Aunt Sofy:

I recently had a very embarrassing experience. While dining at Miss Anderson's I heard a sneeze in the office. Thinking it to be polite I said "Oh Miss Anderson, I didn't know you had a dog." Whereupon she coolly replied, That's my Father, Professor". Visualize my vexation! Oh, Aunt Sofy, help me in my time of despair!

Professor Dizmag

Dear Professor:

My heartfelt sympathies. You should have arisen, waved your napkin around your head three times and said, "How'm I doin'—heh heh", tap dancing simultaneously.

it is the aim of the club to have a program of games, grab-bag, and some other kind of entertainment.

Le Cercle Francais held its last meeting until after Christmas, last Wednesday night, December 7, in Miss Anderson's room at Classic
Hall. Games and charades were enjoyed by all attending.

Rehearsals for Christmas songs were held at Choir practice Thursday night, in preparation for the program to be presented in chapel
this Thursday.

Patent Leather Shoes

A light even oiling once or twice a month will help to keep patent leather uppers from cracking. Use castor oil on a cheesecloth pad.

2,000 CALENDARS FOR DISTRIBUTION

The college is printing 2,000 copies of a calendar to be distributed among prospective students.
The decorative design selected is a picture of the river taken from last year's Revonah. The calendars will be here just before Christmas vacation and will be given to any students who know of anyone thinking of coming to Hanover.
The names and addresses of the prospective students will also have to be turned in at the office.
Calendars will also be sent to Presbyterian ministers and high school principals in this vicinity.
