

RUTH MATHEWS CROWNED MAY QUEEN

HANOVER TO HONOR D. D. IN ABSENTIA

CHARLES E. PATTON TO RECEIVE DEGREE

Hanover College will bestow upon Mr. Charles E. Patton the degree of Doctor of Divinity in absentia at commencement exercises June 7th.

Mr. Patton was appointed a foreign missionary of the Presbyterian Board of 1899 and was assigned to the South China Mission. During his early years on the field, he served in increasingly important posts in different stations. He then opened the new station at Kichow where he and his wife labored for eleven years.

He has shown marked ability as an administrator and executive. He was executive secretary of the South China Presbyterian Mission in China, a member of the China Continuation Committee which cofered mission work and a member of the Christian Literature Council of China. He was Chairman of Commission II since 1922, editing and writing of the National Christian Conference of the commission's significant report on "The Future Task of the Church."

Since the year 1920, Mr. Patton has been vice chairman and executive secretary of the China Council in Shanghai, which supervises and coordinates the work of our thirty five Presbyterian missions in China. He also holds many other prominent and distinguished positions too numerous to enumerate.

SOCIAL WORKER IS CHAPEL SPEAKER

Dr. Hansford, state social worker and psychiatrist from the state insane hospital of North Madison, spoke before the student body Monday morning in a chapel program.

She gave several case studies which have been observed by her, and gave the treatment presented in each case.

Dr. Hansford is prominent in social work throughout the state but her present location at the Madison Hospital.

Two college students were caught breaking into the house on the point south of the college. These have been required to pay for the damage done and have been otherwise disciplined. The owner of the property employs a keeper and if any further damage is done to the property the owner expects to prosecute them according to the law. There are very severe penalties for house breaking and students are advised to respect this property as well as all other property.

Pres. Albert G. Parker, Jr.

MICHAEL HAUER PLAYS FOR BETAS

MANY GUESTS AND ALUMNI ATTEND DANCE.

Michael Hauer and his eleven piece dance orchestra, WLW favorites, and hailing from Dayton, Ohio, featured the annual spring dance of Beta Theta Pi fraternity held last night in the K. of P. hall at Madison.

This orchestra is very popular on many college and university campuses but this is its first visit to Hanover.

The hall was decorated in the fraternity colors of pink and blue. A latticed effect covered the walls and a false ceiling added a completing touch.

The large Beta Pin was placed above the orchestra and furnished a soft glow of appealing light to all who entered.

About twenty rushees were present for the dance and many alumni returned for the frolic.

The dance was scheduled to be held in the Madison armory but due to a last minute conflict the armory was unavailable.

INDEPENDENTS

The Independent students will have a meeting Thursday in the chapel during the chapel hour. The purpose of this meeting is to select members to the Student Council to fill the vacancies of seniors.

Y. M. C. A. RETREAT PROVES A SUCCESS

NINETEEN MAKE THE TRIP TO CAMP ERNST.

Last week end the Y. M. C. A. cabinet and committees spent a very enjoyable time at Camp Louis Ernst, according to William Faulds, president of the group. The guests were Dr. Parker Professor Entorf, Professor Barker and sixteen men students.

Professor Barker, the efficient cook, provided the steak dinner which was a feature of the evening's entertainment, after which every one gathered around the massive camp fire place and, with Dr. Parker leading, sang several devotional hymns. After a short talk by Dr. Parker, the meeting was placed in charge of William Faulds and Herman Allen. All possible plans for the Y. M. C. A. for next year were discussed. Afterwards there was free for all discussion of campus problems.

Early Saturday morning Professor Barker cooked pan cakes ably assisted by Professor Entorf. Afterwards everyone helped wash the dishes. Then another session was held in which the final plans were made for the coming year. After this about eight of the fellows went in swimming. Professor Barker later joined the group. All decided that Professor Barker is just as efficient a swimmer as he is a tennis player. After the swim all adjourned to the dining hall where scrambled eggs and bacon were served.

A short time later all crowded into two cars and headed for Hanover.

PHI DELTS HOLD CONVENTION HERE

STATE OFFICERS ATTEND

Indiana Epsilon chapter of Phi Delta Theta entertained Kappa provinces and the new Initiates here last Saturday and Sunday April 30 and May 1. The social program consisted of a dance Saturday night, when the upperclassmen and the Initiates entertained the visitors at the College Field House. The convention meetings were held at the fraternity chapter house, beginning at ten o'clock Sunday morning.

The convention was presided over by Leland H. Ridgway, province president, of Indianapolis, who was introduced by Dan Lewis, president of the Hanover chapter. Raymond Blackwell, publicity director of Franklin College, in interpreting the fundamentals of the fraternity, declared that meetings of fraternity initiates March 18, 1933, at Indianapolis that they were inaugurated at Franklin College six or seven years ago, and that much good both to the fraternity and the new members has resulted from them.

He was followed by Arthur R. Priest, executive secretary of the fraternity, Oxford, Ohio, who emphasized the high character of the organization; the essentials in the character of the young men, necessary to make them eligible to the fraternity, and the lifelong obligations assumed by the members in joining the organization.

Reports were made by Waldo Feeler, president of Wabash.

WINCHESTER CLASS VIEWS FESTIVAL

IRMA DEAN MADE MAID OF HONOR

With many spectators to be the best May Day celebration held in recent years was observed Thursday morning on the campus east of Classic hall, Miss Ruth Mathew was given the highest honor which the Hanover college students body can bestow when she was crowned Queen of the May.

Miss Irma Dean was given the distinction of acting as Maid of Honor. Walter Bright served as Chancelor and Dan Lewis was the Court Clerk.

A number of out-of-town visitors were present at the exercises including about thirty members of the Sunday school class taught by Mrs. F. L. Goodrich of Winchester, Indiana. May said that this year's audience was the largest ever to witness a May Day celebration here. Perfect weather was a big factor in the success of the day.

The festival opened with the entry of the Crier and the two trumpeters, Gordon Karnel and Forrest Couch, who sounded a call on their instruments to silence the crowd. The Crier then proclaimed the day as one of celebration in honor of the coming of Spring and commanded that every one should make merry.

Groups of girls, dressed as peasants, engaged in revelry for a short time until it was discovered that a Queen was necessary to complete the occasion. Ruth Mathews was proclaimed the puen and she took her place, followed by Miss Dean.

Games were then proclaimed in honor of the Queen and after representatives from each of the various classes were called to serve as royal attendants, the dances and games continued.

After a number of these had been completed, a group of men-at-arms appeared dragging Bill Smythe, who was accused of reading a book during the progress of the entertainment. This was stated to be high crime and as a penalty he was called upon to act as court fool for the day. His subsequent activities kept the crowd amused during the remainder of the festival.

Mysterious Books Appear On Campus This Past Week

Against all tradition, the students of Hanover College were presented with mysterious books last Monday. The students didn't expect them, the faculty didn't want to see them, of course the faculty had wonderful pictures in said books. C. V. didn't see his picture before it went in, the girls didn't like their pictures—never asked the boys, but anyway the books contain the mysteries of Hanover College are here.

The outside of the book is especially appealing. The cover gives a golden glow, on which is the Hanover seal, the year of the publication and at the top the name "Reynobah."

The layout of the book shows good taste on the part of Mr. Grant, the editor, and from the quality of work, the money part of the firm was evidently in the best of care under Leola Young.

There are always a lot of questions and arguments that seem to arise when the Reynobah appears. I could ask several. For example, How did Red Lemen ever get such a pose in his band uniform? And look at Howell! And I suppose they put Shelby in to attract the women here? And just look what Hanover will miss next year when Ruth Mathews is gone. Just look at that picture once! ump thrice? Did you know Jimmy Dow all had become a wrestler? Look at that physique of his!

After students who are planning to attend Hanover see the Reynobah, they will certainly be impressed with the college pictures. It really pictures the life of the

"Her Royal Majesty" Tells Us Some of Her Personal Choices

May Day has come and gone. All the gallantry and exciting moments or thrilling May pole dances have become history.

Who would ever guess that the axis of all our activities was one whose chief hobby was sleeping who was partial to pink roses and who prefers Whitman's chocolates? Such is a personal glimpse into the hobbies and preferences of our May Queen, Ruth Mathews.

Football is her favorite sport presumably for men. Rather timidly she admitted that she isn't very athletic, but thinks basketball is the best sport for women.

Isam Jones is the favorite dance orchestra of our fair queen. When asked her favorite selection of popular music, she evidently tried to evade the question by replying that her favorite author of popular music is the author of "Kiss Me Again."

When asked who her best friend is, she replied "Why my room mate, Ella." The interviewer pried a little further by asking for her best boy friend, to which she replied, "I don't have ONE," although the emphasis may not have been thus.

Naturally everyone is interested in the preferred brand and type of food of the May Queen, but it seems that cherry pie is the only thing that will receive the royal autograph.

Although our queen is a good student, she did admit that she barely passed in one athletic course. And by the way she boldly asserts that "The youth of today are as good as they ever were."

A Lover's Rendezvous

The beauty of the morning is so exhilarating that my pen will not contain itself—so I just must let you share with me the beauty of this May morning from my look out on the Campus Trysting Bench, under the Sturdy Oak. Just atop the eastern horizon's rim, roseate clouds with gold-be sprinkled edges half obscure the rising sun. Beyond murky waters of the winding Ohio, low wooded hills lie dressed in a frock of green trimmed with the red bud and dog wood to remind you that Mother Nature is awake and on parade.

The lazy river, born in babbling brooks and bubbling mountain springs, flows languidly mid these graceful hills and fresh plowed fields. Nearer, where the morning dew drenches the silver of the cob webs, the dripping leaves sparkling in the sun transform this world into a veritable fairyland inlaid with diamonds.

Here, reminiscing of old love scenes—what gay feathered creature could do aught but cock himself on the topmost branch of "Our Sturdy Oak" as a saucy robin is now doing and in rippling bursts of glee, loudly proclaim to the world, "Come, laugh and sing with me, for I'm in love and all the world loves a lover."

Overheard Last

Monday Morning

"What's that gonna be, a flag pole?"

"Flag pole! Bosh! Look's to me like a few stop and go sign for Hanover."

"Gee, ya reckon it could be? Aw, it wouldn't be over there under that tree by the confes. I'm still bettin' it's a flag pole."

"Well, whatever it is later, they sure have enough ropes on it now to brace the Woolworth building."

"Sure do. I s'pose in time we'll find out what it is."

And on Tuesday morning:

"Will you lookit that? That measly red affair rears itself here on the corner after all the apparent preparations for a skyscraper."

"And Hanover is neither to lift Old Glory to the sky or glow with the lights of a traffic signal."

"No, all signs of progress and glory have vanished; but, after all, perhaps an humble, if brilliant, town pump, bringing forth life giving liquid will be more useful to Hanover."

Football or Not?

Ever since the close of the past football season there has been much discussion by sports lovers over the entire country, as to whether football is worth the toll it levies.

Last season there were forty-four fatal injuries attributed to football. Coaches from over the whole country have met and discussed various plans which may help cut down the number of painful injuries which in a few cases prove fatal and in many cases injure the player for life. Numerous rules have been passed, such as moving the goal posts back up to the goal line and the last year's list of unfortunate injuries, padding of the uniform in an effort to decrease the number of players hurt each year. Regardless of these efforts, there are many people who would abolish football completely because of injuries.

However, many of those people who are against football in any form do not consider the fact that many of the injuries cannot be attributed solely to football. Investigation will show that many of the injuries are caused by the player allowing himself to get out of shape or playing without a headgear of sufficient padding. Playing when not in shape is responsible for a large share of the damage because the body is unable to withstand the strain and exertion that ordinarily will not affect it.

Football is a leader in building character. Quick thinking, responsibility, and courage are developed to a great extent. Quick decisions are necessary in playing a wide awake game, and the responsibility of playing his position rests on each man. Courage is developed by playing hard and taking the blows and the contacts that are an integral part of football. Keeping the mind and body in the pink condition is important if a player is to receive the greatest pleasure and profit from playing.

In view of all these benefits the good derived from football seems to outweigh the evil it causes, especially since provisions are constantly being made to cut down the number of injuries.

PHI MU SPRING DANCE

The Phi Mus, instead of a depression dance, have evidently decided to say, "Hello World," with their spring formal, which is to be given Saturday, May 7, in the gym. Thelma Benedict and her Dictators will strike up the band at eight bells—and dancing will continue until twelve.

A number of alumnae and other guests are expected.

Gamma Sigma Pi, local honorary scholastic fraternity, will have its annual election of officers Monday in chapel during the regular chapel period.

Be Old Philosopher

Howdy Folks,

You know it's funny what a person will run on to when he is least expecting it. I was browsing around the campus the other day and happened to pick up a not some fellow had written to a girl, evidently after either receiving a picture from her or seeing her picture in the Revlon. Here is what it said, "Now that's what I call a good picture—personality seems to just jump right out at me. Look at those 'Come Hither Eyes'—there's a delicate twinkle creeping through that makes me wonder—why do you tell—'Those Little White Lies' Title—Personality? or is it the Personification of Mephistopheles?" which means a fallen archangel of legend. I can't say who wrote it or who it was written to, all I know is that it amused me. Keep your eyes open and you will find many amusing things right here at Hanover.

Carelessness is a trait that everyone should guard against and should do all in his power to keep from being it get a good hold on him. It causes a lot of trouble and sometimes trouble which could all be avoided if time had only been taken to think.

A modern attitude that a great many people of today accept is that of letting George do it. When a plan or new project is suggested they are usually all for it, but when it comes right down to carrying out they can always find some excuse or alibi for not helping.

The other night I got to thinking about colleges and just what I had gotten out of it and it was rather difficult at the moment to list the things that were of importance. First I came to the conclusion that of first importance was the thought of the self-sacrifice of professors who have given me unsparingly of time and consideration, secondly the chapter of my fraternity, which beyond a doubt has played a most important influence in the forming of my character and last of all the friendships and acquaintances I have formed. Of course there are others but these seemed to stand out more than the rest.

Just Another Story

The hero of this story was one of these persons who accept whatever happens as a manifestation of the Divine Power. It was not for him to question the workings of a mysterious Providence.

Misfortune dogged his footsteps yet never once did he complain. His wife ran away with the hired man. His daughter married a ne'er do well who deserted her; his son landed in the penitentiary; a hailstorm spoiled his crop and the holder of the mortgage foreclosed on his farm. Yet at each fresh stroke he knelt and returned thanks to the Almighty for mercies vouchsafed.

Eventually, pauperized but still submissive to the decrees from on high, he landed at the county poorhouse. The overseer sent him out one day to plow a po-

Sororities Blind To Economic Conditions of Modern Day

PHI MUS CROWNED KING DEPRESSION WHILE A D'S BELIEVE IN PROSPERITY.

According to the present day law, both sororities on the Hanover campus are subject to fine and imprisonment. The law states that people going under assumed names are subject to punishment and both groups are guilty of this crime.

It was not until after the two sororities had given their real titles. The Phi Mus we discovered to be Pessimists and the Alpha Deltas Optimists.

The Phi Mus gave a dance at which they cheered King Depression and his lengthy reign. They seemed to give him plenty of backing and were quite en-thusiased at his presence. Their celebration was a complete success and King Depression was duly honored.

The Alpha Deltas on the other hand pictured King Depression on a shadowed throne. They were quite free with their available resources and passed out checks before every dance. All present at the dance expressed optimism in being very willing to cash the checks for face value with no endorsement or securities.

We are all anxious to see if the Phi Mus will live up to their traditional title. We will all know by Saturday night. No matter what type dance it is, we are all sure that it will be a success just as all three of the other sorority dances given this year have been.

tato field. A thunderstorm came up but was passing, when without warning a bolt of lightning descended from the sky. It melted the ploughshare, stripped most of his garments from him, singed off his beard and mustache branded him on his back with the initials of another man altogether, and hurled him through a brush fence.

Slowly he got upon his knees clasped his hands and raised his eyes toward heaven. Then for the first time, the worm turned. "Lord," he said, "this is gittin' to be plum' ridiculous!"

MAY DAY MUSINGS

At last the perfect May Day weather! Our cherished Alma Mater was certainly looking her very good-looking best in honor of the great occasion. Hope all the guests were perfectly impressed.

Her Majesty Ruth I was very very lovely in her royal robes, and Maid of Honor Irma gave her excellent support. Paying court in that court shouldn't be difficult.

That boy Smythe is a born clown. His ballet with the May Pole was really funny, to say nothing of his engaging shyness (?) in donning his sister's costume. Boots Barker was an able assistant, too. But then no Hanover function would be complete without a few dogs. I'm afraid Sooner getting old, tho. He seems to leave the center of the stage to these young dogs now.

Mary Ella was certainly "on top of the world" in the tumbling stunts. Wonder how it feels to be on the bottom when a "tumble down pyramid" does. That "opening rose" stunt is a pretty thing.

Well trained dancers, Miss Mitchell. That sword design business always fascinates me.

How can we ever have a May Pole dance without Dugan and Ricketts and Weber? Did you see the two Ra(l)neys doing their stuff?

Nice music. A particularly beautiful arrangement of "Trees"—most appropriate for the occasion and setting. I mustn't forget our juvenile stars, Jane and Katharine.

Let's hope Mr. Barker and Mr. Wickwire had good luck with their pictures.

And the lunch was good and bountiful. I hope these poor boys who had only eight or nine sandwiches managed to keep up their strength until dinner time.

Finally, how about a banquet for those who cleaned up afterwards?

Well, it was a great day and will always be a happy memory. Our thanks and congratulations are due the Y. W. C. A., the Y. A. A., and all those who cooperated with them to produce such a successful festival.

PANTHERS WIN 4 GAMES LAST WEEK

DEFEAT K. M. I. AND CEDARVILLE

The Hanover baseball team had a big week winning four games, two from K. M. I. and two from Cedarville.

The K. M. I. game Friday was played on the home diamond and a good crowd was present in spite of the rain. Fish pitched the whole game for Hanover and had no serious difficulty although he got in several tough spots.

Saturday the Panthers traveled into Ohio and played a double-header at Cedarville College. Staples pitched the first game for Hanover and won his game 1-0. Each team gathered five hits. In the second game Harrell pitched for Hanover and won 5-2. Two successive errors in the first inning prevented a second shut out. The Panthers slammed out eight hits in the final game while the Ohio men touched Harrell for five safeties.

This week the Panthers play Oakland City at Oakland City. The Oaks won the second game of the season from Hanover and Friday the Panthers will be out to even the count.

Malsbury and Karnell each won a singles match; then they teamed together and won their doubles. Evans, Stewart, and Smyth were defeated in singles and Evans and Stewart also lost their doubles match.

The Panther team will journey to Oakland City Friday for a return match with the Oaks. Saturday the Earlham team will be at Hanover for a return match which should be a very good one.

WOMEN CONTRIBUTE TO SPORT EVENTS

IN MAY DAY FESTIVITIES

The Women's Athletic Department contributed quite freely to the festivities of May Day. The penmanship and beansettlers were members of the dancing class. The balloon dancers were also members of this class, and preparation has been made for several weeks in order that all might entertain "Her Royal Majesty." The tumbling class supervised by "Mitt" Dugan, also had its share in entertainment in order that they might please Her Grace they attempted feats never before tried by them.

Through the cooperation of W. A. A., Y. W. C. A. and the Student Council the revelers and performers were costumed. Grace Nixon was chairman of this committee.

WOMEN'S TENNIS TOURNAMENT

This tournament will be an elimination tournament and all those entering must sign up by Monday, May 9. A cup is offered to the winner and becomes the permanent possession of anyone defending it successfully for three consecutive years. Ruth Winter was winner of this cup last year.

No chapel will be held on Monday on account of the meeting Tuesday.

Mary Shook and her sister Crystal, were dinner guests at the Alpha Delta house Wednesday evening.

SPORTS EXCHANGE

With the Kentucky Derby less than a week away, the possible outcome is as scrambled as an egg in an omelet. Now that Burning Blaze is out with a badly crippled leg, anything might happen.

Frank Carideo again showed that he was a second "Top Fligh" when he led the Purdue Coach and Alumni to a football victory over the next year's team. Such stars as Harmeson, Sleight, Kissell, and Purvis helped in the 42-0 win over the varsity.

The American League batting averages show Columbia Lou Gehrig to be on top with an average of .400. But granting this, most of us have seen the mighty first baseman lay down the willow once. And of course Joe Brown did that in winning the World Series for the Cardinals recently. Joe, with such a wind up as the movies show, should scare the batter so that he could not even see the ball.

What do you think of the little golf wizard over in Richmond, Virginia. The eight year old son of a professional recently shot 55 for nine holes. He should break par easily some time.

The "Century" in nine and two-fifths seconds again. And this time it is by a high school lad from Australia. This is fast but a few of the old timers claim that they did it in nine flat. America will need a nine second man to win the hundred in the coming Olympics, I guess.

STUDENTS ESCAPE INJURY IN WRECK

CAR DRIVEN BY THOMPSON LEAVES ROAD NEAR RIVIERA

Four local students narrowly escaped serious injury last Tuesday afternoon when the Chevrolet car, in which they were riding, skidded on the road near the Riviera Gardens and turned over on its side.

The car, owned and driven by Marion Thompson, was headed toward Madison and it is said that the rain which had fallen about half an hour previously had left the road in such a condition that it was difficult to prevent a car from sliding. As the car rounded the curve east of the Riviera, Thompson lost control and sideswiped the bank off the north side of the road.

Both left fenders of the car were badly dented and the top was slightly mashed. Lotus Garriott, Charles Stuckey, and Floyd Neerlemer, the other occupants of the machine, suffered minor cuts and bruises but were not seriously injured.

Phi Mu announces the pledging of Estella Risk, of Milan, Indiana.

A certain professor we'll give you just one slight clue to his identity; he teaches geology — wishes to go on record as declaring that the 1932 May Day celebration is the best he has witnessed here, because it began on time, moved along without pauses or delays, and was both ornamental and interesting.

W. A. A. to Observe Dime Day

"Shine mister? Any clothes to press? Ten cents please." Hanover co-eds are among the great army seeking for employment. The W. A. A. corporation is in a desperate financial slump and a crash is expected any day. Her members and stockholders are coming to her aid and are sponsoring "Dime Day" to be held Saturday, May 14. Work requiring a wage of one dime, as listed by the employment agency (V. Rue, chairman, G. Briggs and M. Hinshaw) includes shoes shined, ten cents to unshine, also) room cleaned (partly at least), clothes pressed, dishes washed, letters and packages mailed, windows washed, clothes brushed, beds made and many other kinds of highly skilled labor, too numerous to mention. The minimum for each wage earner is fifty-cents. All remuneration must be turned over for the worthy cause of keeping the doors of W. A. A. open to business. A prize is to be given to the most ambitious laborer (providing she turns in the most money.)

Make arrangements with the employment agency at once. Headquarters at the College Point House.

RADIO CONTEST WON BY BUTLER

BROADCAST OVER WFBM IN INDIANAPOLIS

The Hanover Radio Broadcast team participated in a radio drama contest Saturday night, April 30th, over WFBM in Indianapolis.

The presentation of the Butler team was awarded the winning reward in the contest.

Purdue was the other representative in the contest.

The Hanover broadcasting team composed of Robert Kelsey, George Middleton, Margaret Rogers and Herman Allen, went on the air at 7 p. m. and was on twenty minutes.

Miss Kate Andrews was coach of the team and accompanied them to Indianapolis.

The same presentation was repeated before the student body Friday morning in a chapel program.

George Middleton was unable to be present for the Friday performance but his part was taken by Herman Allen who acted as announcer at Indianapolis.

STUDENT COUNCIL ACTIONS

All visitors from other schools who have been invited by local students to attend the All-College boat ride next Friday must enter the boat in the company of those who invited them and the student bringing guests must be responsible for them, according to a resolution passed in the meeting of the Student Council held last Monday in Classic Hall.

Appropriation of $12 and $15 respectively were made to the Olympic fund and the May Day fund, and the present assessment of 50 cents out of one semester, student tax to defray the expenses of debating was altered to 25 cents for each semester at the request of Professor Paul Conklin head of the English department.

Miss Frances Hendricks Ketcham and Mr. John H. Ketcham of New York City, visited the College Library Wednesday afternoon, escorted by Mrs. Edward J. Reed, of Madison, and her daughter, Mrs. Lorenzen, of Chicago (formerly Margaret Reed, '23, member of Alpha Delta Pi).

Miss Ketcham and Mr. Ketcham were particularly interested in the Library because their grandmother was a cousin of the Honorable Thomas A. Hendricks in whose memory it was erected. They were in Madison to attend the funeral of their mother.

The German club will hold its annual picnic Tuesday evening, May 10, at the Hanover Beach. The committee in charge consists of Fraulein Ernest, Fraulein Henning and Herr Clayton Snyder.

PROGRAM PLANNED FOR MOTHER'S DAY

ALBERT PLATT TO SPEAK

Special services in honor of Mother's Day are being planned at the local Presbyterian church next Sunday morning, according to an announcement made this week by Rev. D. C. Truesdale, pastor of the church.

Both Sunday school and church services will have the same Mother's day theme and it is hoped that a large number of the college students will attend. Albert Platt will give the main talk during the church period and his subject will be "A Tribute to Mother." This is said to be the speech which he presented recently in the Blythe oratorical contest, a really fitting talk for the Sunday and those who were present at that time say that it is an unusual service.

Special music will also be given by the College Choir under the direction of Professor Max Poland and Joseph Judkins is scheduled to give an organ solo before the church hour.

"How could she meet the expense of having her face lifted?" "By doing a little expert lifting herself."

KISSING BARRED

She—I don't allow fellows to kiss me on short acquaintances. He—Heck! I was just trying to get better acquainted.
